Dear Professor Balk:

I deeply appreciate your letter of February 5th and share your high opinion of Norman E. Isaacs. I have not had the pleasure of meeting him but am most favorably impressed by his writings, including those you so kindly sent on. I am glad to have your confirmation of that impression and agree heartily with you that he would be an excellent executive director of the National News Council. I also share your opinion that it is imperative that the Council be truly independent and agree with your comments about William E. Arthur.

Cordially,

Roger J. Traynor
