Dear Milton:

It is most heartening to have your letter of January 9th about the new National News Council and to know that I can count on your assistance and advice. I have had the pleasure of meeting Fred Friendly and discussing with him the problems we face as we go about setting up the Council. I admire him very much.

With all good wishes,

Cordially,

Roger J. Traynor

I recently read of your appointment as chairman of the new National News Council which will investigate complaints against the press and threats to its freedom as well. I wish to send you my best wishes and to offer any assistance I can give you as a State Senator. I understand that you might be working with my wife's cousin, Fred Friendly.

You must be very pleased at Michael's election as President of the San Francisco Bar Association.

With best regards,
